

BADMINTON RULES (Doubles)

Rules for Toss:

A game starts with a coin toss. Whoever wins the toss gets to decide whether they would serve or receive first OR what side of the court they want to be on. The side losing the toss shall then exercise the remaining choice.

Services Rules:

- One should hit the shuttlecock diagonally across the Badminton court. From the right court of the server end to the left court of the receiver end or vice versa.
- Both the server and the opponent must stand still or be stationary on the court until the shuttlecock implementation of serve. No one should move! • In no circumstances the boundary line of the court should be touched, or it will be considered a fault. But, if the shuttlecock lands on the boundary line or the long service line of the opponent, it is not a fault.
- You must serve from the right court if your score is zero (love) or any even number. If your score is odd, you must serve from the left court. Hence, as per the Badminton doubles service court rules, you must change the serving side every time you score a point.
- When you serve, your service should be over the net and land beyond the service line in the opponent's court.
- Make sure that your opponent is ready before you serve the shuttlecock.
- The player should hit the shuttlecock from the height below the waist.
- The receiver should stand on the opposite end of the court. The winning pair should be the one to serve the next time. To start with a new game, any player from the winning team can serve, and any player from the losing team can receive.
- In the doubles Badminton format, if any of the players have served or received out of turn or served or received from the wrong side of the court, it will need correction there and then.

General Rules:

- All the matches will be in the knockout format.
- Open Category – (No age limit)
- Players must report to the court 15 minutes before game starts.
- If player did not report on time it will be consider as walkover.
